EASTERN AFTERMATH.

Criticisms of Methods Pursued at Western Presidents' Meeting. New York, Sept. 30.—The Times mays: The optimistic views of the result of Tuesday's conference of Western presidents, as expected by Chairman Jeffery, are not generally forthcoming by freight representatives and other railroad men here. That the absence from the conference of representatives of the Northern Pacific was more or less of an intentional slight, and that it forebode fill for the future of the St. Paul committee, was shown by a statement from President Mellen of the Northern Pacific.

"Will the Northern Pacific." ien of the Northern Pacific.

"Will the Northern Pacific," he was asked,

"Join in the organization of the proposed St.
Faul Traffic Committee?"

"The Northern Pacific," answered President Mellen, "will under no circumstances join in any pool, traffic committee or other such agreement, and Mr. Jeffery has re-ceived no assurances from us to the effect that we are favorably disposed to such a This statement was made emphatically.

SUIT AGAINST MRS. BRICE. Her Husband Said to flave Failed to REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Sept. 20.-Thomas M. King, who was appointed receiver of the Pittsburg and Western Bailroad Company by the United States Circuit Court of Pennsylvania, and James T. Terry have brought an action in the Supreme Court of this county analyst Catherine C. Brice, as administrative of the estate of her husband, Calvin S. Brice, Frederick P. Gloott, Wm. A. Reed, Henry W. Cannon and George T. Baker to becover limese commissions arising out of a deal in the purchase of several million dellars of bunds of the Pittsburg and Western Railroad. Rhilread, Judge Birchoff to-day granted a mottor Jusice Bischoff to-day granted a motion to strike out the names of Mesars. Offsett, Read, Cannon and Baker from the summons and complaint as parties defendant in the action. They have never been served with the papers, Mrs. Brice being the only one upon whom service was made.

It is contended that the action should be prosecuted solely against her as the personal representative of her husband, upon the theory that she is liable individually and for his unalsclosed principals.

The basis of the smit is a letter written by Mr. Brice in which he promises to pay the mency as a personal obligation as commission, provided certain bonds are sold. Mrs. Brice in her answer denies any knowledge of the transactions, and declares that the agreement disclosed was for Mr. King's benefit.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 29,-Annie James, wife of Marion James, a wealthy and respected negro of Eutaw, Greene County, Ala., has returned, from Rome, haly, where she went in May of this year to warn Pope Leo XIII of his impending death. Mrs. James while attending a service at her church, in the early part of last May, fell into a trance.

After recovering from the trance she informed her husband and ethers that the Levi had spoken to her, saying that Pope Leo would not live much longer. She declares that the Lord directed her to communicate this fact to the Pepe. Her husband, Marion James, owns a fine plantation near Entaw, and is prosperous. He is rated as being worth over $5.99. He is well liked by the white people of the community where he lives. Upon insistence of his wife, he provided her with sufficient money to make the trip to Rome, and she left Eutaw accompanied by Mrs. Nancy Vaughan, colored, late in May. She was dealed audience with the Pope, but communicated with him through an interpreter. formed her husband and others that the
